Abstract

Urticaria manifests as skin rashes characterized by red, itchy bumps, there are many limitations in field of allopathy for treatment of urticaria because allopathy tries to study the human organism from materialistic stand point. The vital principles of homoeopathy offer effective management of urticaria. A repertory in Homoeopathy is an index of symptoms linked to remedies that have been proven to address the symptoms during proving or clinical observation. Synthesis repertory contains clinical symptoms or conditions and corresponding group of medicines. They facilitate the selection of a remedy on the basis of pathological similarity, causation, modalities and concomitants, here we studied the single remedy rubrics in Synthesis repertory 9.1 focusing on their utility in precise homeopathic treatment. Single remedy rubrics list only one remedy for a particular symptom, simplifying remedy selection for homeopaths.

Keywords: Urticaria, Rubric, Having single remedy, Synthesis Repertory 9.1

Introduction: The aim of homoeopathy is not only treat urticaria but to address its underlying cause and individual susceptibility. As far as therapeutic medication is concerned, several remedies are available to treat urticaria that can be selected on the basis of cause, sensation and modalities of the complaint. Synthesis is the best repertory mainly based on Repertory of Homoeopathic Materia Medica and Repertory by Dr. J. T. Kent, Rubric – urticaria is well demonstrated in skin chapter of both Repertory. It is classified in various main rubrics and sub rubrics, Rubric follow a clearly readable ‘Symptoms format’ it has correct sentence, combined modalities merged similar rubrics & revised language of repertory. These repertory has been improved qualitatively in structure & Language to make it more comprehensible & Facilitate easy reference at the time of need. Single remedy rubrics provide precision in remedy selection, helping practitioners quickly identify the best treatment for a specific symptoms. While useful, they should be combined with a thorough assessment of the patient's overall condition to ensure an accurate prescription.

There are many single remedy rubrics in Synthesis Repertory 9.1 which must be taken into consideration. Let us study few of them.

Conclusion: When rubric is covered by a single remedy, the remedy is very useful for selection of similimum. Here I have tried to collect all the rubrics of urticaria having single remedy from Synthesis repertory 9.1
